POLICY STATEMENT

Washington Technology University's (WTU) policy with respect to users' use of the Web site is to collect no personally identifiable information unless the user elects to make such information available to the university. "Personally identifiable information" includes name, address, telephone and fax numbers, social security number, and credit card, debit card or other charge card information. Personally identifiable information does not include information that is collected anonymously (i.e., without identification of the individual user) or demographic information not connected to an identified individual. WTU reserves the right to change its privacy policy by announcing and posting the changes on the University website.

DEFINITIONS

Personally Identifiable Information: includes name, address, telephone and fax numbers, social security number, and credit card, debit card or other charge card information. Personally identifiable information does not include information that is collected anonymously (i.e., without identification of the individual user) or demographic information not connected to an identified individual.

POLICY

A. Collection of Personally Identifiable Information

With respect to users' use of the Washington Technology University web site, Washington Technology University will collect no personally identifiable information unless the user elects to make such information available to the university.

B. Use of Personally Identifiable Information

Washington Technology University will not share personally identifiable information with third parties without the individual's permission, other than in the good-faith belief that such action is necessary to: (a) comply with legal requirements; (b) protect the rights or property of the University, or (c) protect public safety in urgent circumstances.

C. Protection of Privacy

Access to personal information on our website, including information about student accounts, courses and grades will require a log-on ID and be password-protected for privacy and security.

D. Statement of Liability

There is no technology that can prevent all unauthorized, unlawful, or criminal access by computer trespassers or others intent on violating the law. Washington Technology University will include a liability disclaimer on its website, stating that Washington Technology University shall not be liable to any user, including students, for any violation of the website's privacy policy or for any third party's violation of the website's privacy policy or the privacy or confidentiality policies of the third party. Furthermore, that Washington Technology University shall not be liable for any damages, including actual, special, punitive, consequential, exemplary, statutory, or other damages, attorney's fees or costs, charges, fines, or any monetary compensation, to any user, for any claim, lawsuit, action, or other proceeding arising from, relating to, or in connection with this privacy policy or future policies or any use of or access to the Washington Technology University website.
